¹ Bracketed Budget authority in FY 2003 for these activities was originally appropriated in FY 1999 for High Performance Bonuses hence the grants are made from unobligated balances. The FY 2003 President's Budget requests a five year reauthorization of $500,000,000 for the Employment Achievement Bonus, providing $100,000,000 per year on average for these grants.

General Statement

Title I of P. L. 104-193, the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996 (PRWORA) created the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) program. The legislation repealed the Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) and related programs and replaced them with a single fixed block grant. Reauthorization requested for 2003 is pending congressional action.

The purpose of TANF is to increase State flexibility in operating programs designed to: (1) provide assistance to needy families so that children may be cared for in their own homes; (2) reduce dependency by promoting job preparation, work, and marriage; (3) prevent and reduce the incidence of out-of-wedlock pregnancies; and (4) encourage the formation and maintenance of two-parent families.

Building on the success of the 1996 welfare reform program, the FY 2004 budget follows the framework proposed in the President's FY 2003 budget request which includes reauthorization of PRWORA. The reauthorization maintains current program funding levels for the following activities: Family Assistance Grants to States, Tribes and Territories; Matching Grants to Territories; and Tribal Work Programs. Authority for both the Contingency Fund and Supplemental Grants for Population Increases would be reinstated. In addition, a new TANF Research, Demonstration and Technical Assistance program which will include promotion of family formation and healthy two-parent marriages activities would be established, as well as a new matching grant program focused on marriage promotion. Finally, the Bonus to Reward High Performance States would be re-focused to provide for bonuses on employment achievement.

The President's appropriation request for this account assumes passage of pending legislation included in the President's FY 2003 request.

Purpose and Method of Operation

State Family Assistance Grants: Funding under the TANF program is provided primarily through State Family Assistance Grants, which are authorized and pre-appropriated at $16.5 billion each year. State allocations are based on historic levels of welfare spending. While States must meet certain work, participation, and maintenance of effort requirements, they have enormous flexibility with their TANF funds to design programs that promote work, responsibility and self-sufficiency, and strengthen families.

There has been a dramatic increase in employment of current and former welfare recipients. The percentage of working recipients remains high. In FY 2001, 33 percent of adult recipients were working, compared to less than 7 percent in FY 1992, and 11 percent in FY 1996. Thus, about one in three recipients was working in a typical month, the highest level ever recorded and nearly a five-fold increase since FY 1992. In FY 2001 the vast majority or 83 percent of recipients who were working were in paid employment; others were engaged in work experience and community service.

States have wide flexibility under TANF to determine their own eligibility criteria, benefit levels, and the type of services and benefits available to TANF recipients. However, States must maintain a historical level of State spending on behalf of eligible families (the maintenance of effort requirement) and must meet minimum work participation rate requirements. The proposed reauthorization also would increase flexibility for States by allowing them to spend TANF funds carried over from previous years for activities other than assistance. These activities may include spending for preventing and reducing the incidence of out-of-wedlock births, encouraging formation and maintenance of healthy, two-parent married families, or encouraging responsible fatherhood. In FY 2001, all 50 States, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico met the overall work participation rates for all families. Additionally, of the 35 jurisdictions that have two-parent family programs subject to a work participation rate, 30 jurisdictions met the standard.

In addition, families who have received federally funded assistance under TANF for five cumulative years (or less at State option) are not eligible for federally funded assistance. States may continue to exempt up to 20 percent of their cases from this rule.

Under current law States may transfer up to a total of 30 percent of their TANF funds to either the Child Care and Development Block Grant program or the Social Services Block Grant (SSBG) program, with not more than 4.25 percent transferable to SSBG. (FY 2002 Appropriations language modified current law allowing for 10 percent transfer to SSBG). Under the proposed reauthorization, the allowable SSBG transfer would be restored to 10 percent.

Tribes are eligible to operate their own TANF programs and those that choose to do so receive their own Family Assistance Grants. The number of approved TANF plans has steadily increased since the first three tribal TANF programs started in July 1997. As of January 2003, 38 tribal TANF grantees covering 178 Tribes and Alaska Native Villages had been approved, all of which are fully operational. Thirty of the approved plans involve individual Tribes and eight are multi-tribal TANF operations.

Territories -- Family Assistance Grants: These grants provide funding to Guam, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands to operate their own TANF programs. Territories are subject to the same State plan, work and maintenance of effort requirements as the fifty States and the District of Columbia. A Territory's allocation is based on historic funding levels.

Matching Grants to Territories: These grants are an additional source of funding to the Territories. These Matching Grants are subject to a ceiling under Section 1108 of the Social Security Act and additional maintenance of effort requirements. Matching Grant funds may be used for the TANF program and the Foster Care, Adoption Assistance, and Independent Living programs. The Federal-matching rate for these funds is 75 percent. Use of the Matching Grant is optional.

Supplemental Grants for Population Increases: These grants were authorized to provide additional TANF funding in FYs 1998-2001 to States that experienced increases in their populations and or had low levels of welfare spending per capita. A State qualified for a grant in years after FY 1998 only if it qualified in FY 1998. Territories and Tribes were not eligible.

Seventeen States received these grants in FY 2002, after the 2002 Economic Recovery Act provided an additional year's worth of funding.

Bonus to Reward High Performance States: These grants provide bonus funds to States that meet certain performance measures reflecting how well they are achieving the goals of TANF. A total of $1 billion was available for awards for FY 1999-2003 and the total amount awarded each year averaged $200 million. In July 2002 twenty-six States received high performance bonuses.

Under the proposed reauthorization, these bonuses would be restructured to focus on employment achievement, and would average $100 million per year.

Healthy Marriage Promotion Grants: The FY 2003 Budget proposes a new matching grant program targeted to effective family formation activities.

Tribal Work Programs: These grants are available to Indian Tribes and Alaska Native organizations that conducted a Job Opportunities and Basic Skills Training (JOBS) program in FY 1995. The purpose of these grants is to allow Indian Tribes and Alaska Native organizations to operate a program to make work activities available to their members. Funding is authorized and pre-appropriated at $7,633,000 for each fiscal year.

Contingency Fund: The Contingency Fund was established to provide a funding reserve which could be used to assist States that experience unexpected economic downturns, resulting in larger than expected numbers of families receiving Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) services. In order to be eligible to receive Contingency Funds, a State must meet one of two criteria:

- 1) The State's unemployment rate for the most recent 3-month period for which data are available must exceed 6.5 percent and this rate must be at least 10 percent higher than the unemployment rate for the same 3-month period in either or both of the last two calendar years or;
- 2) The number of food stamp participants in the State must exceed by at least 10 percent the number of food stamp participants in the State in the comparable quarter of either FY 1994 or FY 1995.

The reauthorization proposal will reinstate the Contingency Fund, which would retain the above triggers, but would include a modification to the definition of maintenance of effort and simplify the annual reconciliation process.

TANF Research, Demonstration and Technical Assistance Activities: This proposed new authority would fund research, demonstration, and technical assistance activities including those that are targeted to family formation strategies and healthy marriages and reducing the incidence of out of wedlock birth. A portion of the research effort would be directed to child welfare issues in lieu of reauthorizing children's welfare research under the Children's Research and Technical Assistance account.

Rationale for the Budget Request

Welfare reform has been a major success. The number of dependent families has been cut in half. The child poverty rate has fallen substantially. The poverty rate of both black children and children in single mother families is now at the lowest point in U.S. history. The growth in out-of-wedlock births has slowed for the first time in three decades.

But even with this notable progress, much remains to be done, and States still face daunting challenges. The tasks of promoting marriage and two-parent families, of addressing the educational and growth potential of the next generation, of fully engaging fathers in the emotional and economic lives of their children, and of reducing out-of-wedlock pregnancies has hardly begun. Building on the early success of work programs, the recent emphasis on identifying and addressing barriers of work, on moving families to stable jobs, enhancing skills and wage growth is far from finished.

The past success of the first wave of welfare reform efforts provides a unique opportunity to move to the next phase of welfare reform as evidenced in the Administration's welfare reform legislation and the on going efforts of the Congress to enact welfare reform legislation.
